

Joan Huff
Pattern Book

Joan Huff was one of the most well known names in the world of egg art.

Over the years she taught egg art around the world and influenced thousands of people through her work.

I had the privilege of knowing Joan and spending some time with her at the shows in the United States. As a person whose name had always inspired me with awe, when I met her, I found Joan to be very friendly, and willing to help in any way she could. You can imagine my horror though when I received my list of students for one of my classes and realised that Joan was one of my students! She was so lovely to work with and we shared some very happy times whenever we met up.

Joan's legacy to egg art lives on in her patterns which allow others to share her ideas, work out how to develop concepts and then execute them.

Over the years I have been selling patterns on Joan's behalf and after she passed away, her daughter gave me permission to continue with this. We agreed that the monies normally paid to Joan would be donated to charity and what more appropriate than to Egg Art International, promoting egg art in the way that Joan always did throughout her life. We are now able to offer over two hundred of Joan's designs as electronic copies. In many instances, there are more than one variations in the same pattern, however space does not permit every version on one pattern to be illustrated.
